the tramp of soldiery added the touch of military pomp and circumstance.
Elaborate preparations had been made for the ceremonies of burial. Beginning with the removal of the dead from the United States steamship Birmingham, which brought them up from Havana, and ending with the firing of three volleys of musketry over the new made graves across the Potomac, the ceremony was designed to show all honor and respect to the martyrs of the ill fated battleship.

Naval Escort From Cruisers.

The escert for the slow march through the streets of the capital from the Birmingham to the state, war and navy building was picked from the Birmingham and other vessels now in Washington. The speakers who faced the crowd in the plaza behind the navy building were only three—President Taft and Father Chidwick, chaplain of the Maine when the explosion of February 15, 1898, sent her to the bottom, and Chaplain Bayard, U. proud of, because it was fought without a single selfish instinct and was prompted by the most sincere and truest incitives. Beginning with a self denying ordinance with respect to Cubs, we were forced into the attitude of taking over the Philippines and our course in those islands has reflected the highest credit on our purposes and civilization.

"These, our honored dead, were hurled into eternity without the inspiration of anticipated hattle or hoped for victory. But they were on duty when they went down; they wore the uniforms of their believed country, and they are to be classed well to the fore in that long list of naval heroes whose steadtastness and courage have given the American navy the high position it occupies in history among the navies of the world.
